SCHOOL SONG

Dear old Trafalgar
Hear thou our hymn of praise.
Hearts full of love we raise proudly to thee.
Thy splendour never falls,
Truth dwells within thy walls,
Thy beauty still entralls
        Dear Trafalgar.

Through thee we honour
Truth, virtue, loveliness.
Thy friendships e'er possess
        Our constancy.
Thy spirit fills us through,
        So we'll be ever true
To our dear blue and blue
        Of Trafalgar.

O! Alma Mater:
How can we from thee part?
Thou only hast our heart,
        Dearest of schools.
Thy glory we shall see
Wherever we may be,
Still love of Trafalgar
        Our future rules.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Looking through this fine yearbook it quickly becomes evident to someone not previously familiar with the school that many of our students come to us from beyond the borders of Canada. In fact, this year, which is not untypical, there are fifteen countries represented in the school population from five different continents. This adds wonderfully to the cosmopolitan flavour for which our school is renowned.

There is so much that we can learn from each other. Obviously the girls from abroad have little choice but to learn Canadian ways by the very fact that they come to live among us. The wise Canadians make friends with the foreign girls and try to learn as much as they can of their countries and cultures. Sometimes they are fortunate enough to be invited to visit the countries and homes of these girls.

I was lucky enough to have such an experience myself this last March. For the past two decades or so students have been coming to Trafalgar Castle from Hong Kong. For a week I reversed the procedure by going to their beautiful city to accompany the Celebration Singers and to meet their parents, alumnae and future students. It was an exhilarating experience. More importantly, it was, for this old war-horse, an education. I became the student and Amy Kay and Amy Kwok and other Hong Kong girls became my teachers.

Part of our mission here at Trafalgar Castle is to teach tolerance and understanding. Nothing helps more in this aim than visiting and living with those you would understand. The most narrow-minded people are those who are insular and refuse to travel beyond their own homes.

If I have one recommendation to the readers of this yearbook, it would be to take every opportunity you get to travel the world. It will make you a better person and, also, it's lots of fun.

Craig Kamcke
Principal

Dear students,

Another year has blown by and I find myself composing a few lines for the yearbook again. Someone told me recently that as you get older time seems to pass by more quickly. I agree with this assessment, therefore I must be getting older!

I find that each school year is unique. No two are ever the same. The routines may be very similar but the people who make up our school each year are very different. The students are different and the experiences and interactions between them and the staff are certainly unique each year. As a biology teacher I see these staff/student relationships as an example of symbiotic mutualism. In other words, each person receives some benefit from the relationship.

The benefits may be support, advice, guidance, inspiration, safety, love, knowledge, encouragement or humour. I hope that you have received many of these benefits this year from the friendships you have made with staff and other students.

To the grads I just want to say "CONGRATULATIONS" on your accomplishments. You are on the threshold of an exciting chapter in your lives. Make use of the knowledge and experience you have gained, always be positive and enjoy what lies ahead of you!

Yours sincerely,

J. B. McClure
Vice-Principal

When I graduated from university, I went on an extended holiday to the South Pacific. I like to think of myself now as a seasoned traveller, but during my first few months away from home, I was very homesick.

One day, in a small hotel in Cairns on the Great Barrier Reef of Australia, a young man came up to me and put his hand next to mine. At first I could not understand why he was doing that, and then I realized that, like me, he was wearing a University of Victoria ring. Memories of home and my days on the UVIC campus flooded back; even though we had nothing else in common, this young man and I had the same university as a bond. Far away from home it felt good to be able to talk to someone about something so familiar.

Perhaps one day, when you, too, are far away, you will see someone wearing a Trafalgar Castle sweatshirt or a Trafalgar Castle ring, and you will feel the instant bond of something shared a long time ago.

Though we come from many different cultures and different parts of the world, the one thing we all have in common is that we are all Trafalgarites, and we will always belong to this distinguished group.

As Mr. Davis said in his speech at Senior Dinner, a familiar scent such as the lilacs in the spring or the sound of a distant bell like the one that wakes us up each morning or dismisses us from classes will suddenly remind you of Trafalgar and your thoughts will be swept away to a May Day long ago or breakfast on a cold winter's morning.

Hundreds of Trafalgarites have sat where you have sat in Chapel. Hundreds have shared and still share the same aims, feelings, ideas and ideals of Trafalgar Castle School. And so the unity does not end when you walk out these doors. Because you belong. You will, over the years, belong to many other groups. You will form new families; you will join business firms or service groups, but you will also always belong to Trafalgar Castle School. We have all shared in a time and in events in our lives that are unique to us.

I hope that you will take what you have learned here as citizens of Trafalgar and become good citizens of a larger community — a university community where you will not just go from class to class and home again, but where you will become involved to make it an even better place of higher learning. When you get jobs, I hope you will not be the kind of person who turns up just in time to do the least of what is expected and nothing more. I hope you will work hard to make a positive contribution in your chosen profession.

I expect you to 'go the extra mile'. I expect you to do more than what is asked of you because therein will lie the real satisfaction in your lives. If you become mothers, I hope you will nurture your children and encourage them so that they too will try to make the world a better place than how they found it.

I hope a part of your heart will linger here at Trafalgar Castle, as it has for so many alumnae over the years, and over the miles. Come back and visit us often.

"Packing up the dreams God planted
In the fertile soil of you
Can't believe the hopes He's granted
Means chapter in your life is through.

But we'll keep you close as always
It won't even seem you've gone
'Cause our hearts in big and small ways
Will keep the love that keeps us strong."

Michael W. Smith

I will remember you.

love,

HEAD GIRL

GAP STUDENTS

As I'm gazing out my bedroom window onto the quad, I clearly remember the first day I arrived at Trafalgar — a nervous, frightened junior with so many hopes, dreams and aspirations for the future. Little did I know that they would come true so fast. Five years ago I found myself entering Trafalgar for the first time and now I find myself addressing the school as a student for the last time. Why has the time gone so fast? There are so many people to thank but the gratitude I feel is impossible to put to paper. It has been a privilege to have attended such a fine school as Trafalgar but most importantly it is an even greater privilege to be a graduate among such a charismatic, outstanding graduating class. Trafalgar has served me well over the years and I hope it can serve you in the same positive manner, for it has so many wonderful things to offer.

To the graduating class of '93 and students — I wish you all the best for the future and one word of advice — make the most of your time at Trafalgar, because before you know it, you will be saying good-bye to your high school years and welcoming other challenges. One thing we Trafalgarites will always have in common:

"We love the halls of ivy that surround us here today, and we will not forget though we be far, far away.
One day a hush will fall as the footsteps of us will echo down the hall and disappear; but as we sadly start our journey far apart, a part of every heart will linger here."

Thanks for all the wondrous memories. I will miss you, Trafalgar!

How can I possibly describe all that this year has given me in only a few paragraphs? I must simply say that this year has truly been a great time in my life. I have had so many rich experiences and I have learned so much. Working as a GAP student at Trafalgar gave me the opportunity to get involved in a wide variety of activities with a whole range of unique people. It has been enlightening to live and work in such a multicultural environment.

I want to say "THANK YOU" to so many people: to the Dean and the other house mothers for giving me help in residence and enabling me to chaperone so many exciting events, to Mrs. Sigsworth for the enjoyable ESL classes with which it was a pleasure to help, to Mr. Davis for the skiing and for his addictive enthusiasm for just about everything (including chemistry, of course!), to Mr. Cleary for the Virtual Reality Experience, to Mrs. Pollitt and Mrs. Bagnall for their instruction in modern languages and above all to Mr. Kameke who kindly liaised with GAP and made this wonderful experience possible for me. Thanks to all you girls who further opened my mind to the world of people and who made my work at Trafalgar refreshing. I wish you all the best.

Kate Stone

Mr. Sunshine's out at last!, which means it's time for me to go. "Guys, I'm gonna miss the whole lotta ya", Canada and Trafalgar too. I've had some great experiences here — wading through all that snow, wrapped up like an Eskimo just to buy a packet of "Crisps". The introduction to skiing on ski day, during which I managed to disguise myself as a snowball. The chance to visit Banff in March, where I tried out ice climbing and met fellow GAPPERS. The most rewarding experience, the painting of the sets for the musical, to my army of helpers — "Thanks!" I won't forget those who have made me smile — The OAC Art Class, thanks to Cathy's amazing stories and the unveiling of Zimkie's masterpieces. Trying to dance in those huge bags with the "hypa" Grade 9 drama class. Lunch times with the Veggies thanks to De Brown for the introduction to "Pudgy Bunny".

Ingrid Hirt

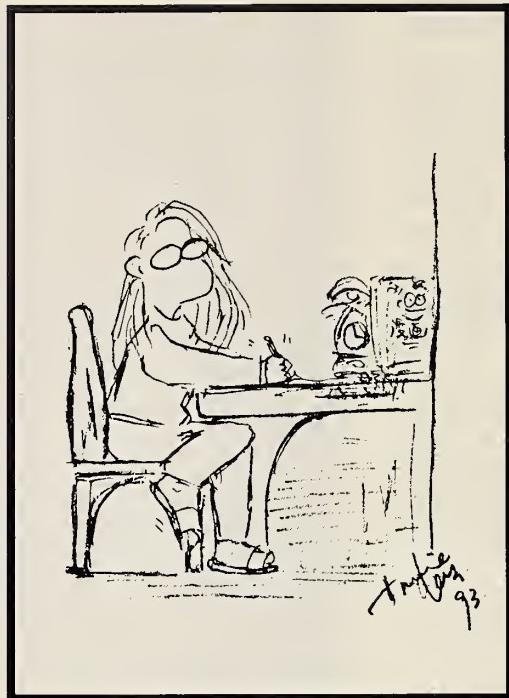

Thanks for all the good times. To Upper Frances, "Smile it increases your face value." To Robyn, "Keep playing that happy music". I'll leave you all with a big hug.

From your Jelly Baby Queen,
Eddie

EDITOR'S MESSAGE

Owing to my lack of experience, the yearbook staff and I have encountered many challenges during the course of planning and compiling this volume. Fortunately, with the gracious guidance and direction from Mrs. Pollitt, Mrs. Metselaar and Ms. Grady, and with the kind assistance and co-operation from my yearbook staff, I am confident that I have been able to take up the challenge. Moreover, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the school for giving me this great experience. I hope that all of you will enjoy reading this yearbook and that it will bring back all the tears and laughter of 1992-1993.

Trafalgar Castle celebrates 120 years of education

By Joan Ransberry
This Week Staff Writer

A good education is not a privilege...it's a decision, says an official of Whitby's Trafalgar Castle school.

While the all-girl school is about mark its 120th year, it doesn't have a high profile in the community, says school principal Craig Kaincke.

One of the reasons may be due to the name. Up until 1970, Trafalgar was known as "College."

esteem and confidence," says Mr. Kaincke.

Classes are offered for girls from Grade 7 to graduation or OAC. The school's facilities include modern computer and science labs, a gym, art studio and a chapel. Trafalgar's staff is especially proud of the school's music program. "We have a piano," says Mr. Kaincke.

Also offered are sports, a debating club, drama and an emphasis on student fellowship.

The original building was built as a private home by Elson Reynolds.

Years at Trafalgar: One

Message: "Life is like ice cream: there's thirty-eight flavours out there and you just choose the flavour you want." (Bob Kunst.) Tory, I am going to miss you; never change and although I don't like how you sing, you were the best roommate; Shimi our third roommate. Daniela and the Mexican girls, we'll take another limo in Hawaii or dance in another disco in Hong Kong. I will never forget you.

SYLVIA MBEKEANI

House: Maxwell

Years at Trafalgar: One

Message: I would have loved to stay longer but time and season don't allow me. I have a lot to do outside the Castle. Many thanks go to all my teachers for the helping hand that they gave. Whenever I needed one, Miss Roberts you are a shoulder, Mrs. Jackson I'll never forget the love you showed when I lost my Granny. To all housemothers, God bless you. A special dedication to my Mom and Dad who gave me their support.

GRADUATING CLASS

CATHY MILLARD

House: Hare

Years at Trafalgar: One

Position: Senior Class Co-president

Message: This year has been the best and most unique of my life: Montse and Elton John, Dany-Sonrisa, Suny the sorceress, late nights and insanity with Ingrid (if only they knew), Robyn — fellow Ottawanian, and the rest of T.C.S. for stress, support and laughs. Thanks to Miss R. (from the Haiku fanatic), Ash, Rob n' Jan, Aunt Ruth's clan and especially to the 2 people I love, respect, admire most: Mom and Dad — who would have ever dreamed?

JAIME MONG

House: Maxwell

Years at Trafalgar: Two

Message: All good things come to an end but memories don't: cutting dead ends for Judy; fighting with all the ISPs and homework; being kicked out by Miss Stone from Eva's room; trying to learn how to sing the most popular Chinese songs; arguing with Mr. Cleary about the NON-FUNCTIONABLE computer programs . . . Special thanks to Mr. Southwell, Mr. Cleary, Mrs. Murphy, Miss Barton and Mrs. Mulhall.

ANDREA NEEDHAM

House: Hare

Years at Trafalgar: Five

Position: Head of Environment Group and Head of Drama

Message: To my sweet soul sisters, walk in hot pursuit, the Ozone with Brown, Simms, Chris, ardner — good times were always had by all — would you like to come Mr. C? Paulette eyein. I think hug is in order, Sharron's morning greetings, how obnoxious, lock all doors, The strut, be mean to people, English accents are so much FUN, let's hit Taco Bell, Desparado, riding the bus w/Sita — 2 Gardners — wow! So kind.

ALISHA NG

House: Farewell

Years at Trafalgar: Two

Position: Librarian

Message: There were uncountable hard and wonderful moments within these two years. I did many things that made Mrs. Jackson Mad: sticking a 'diet' poster on the door, warning her not to drink coke . . . Thanks to Mrs. Pollitt, Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Sigsworth and Mrs. Jackson for taking care of me, sharing my sorrow and excitement. Special thanks to Mrs. Huk. I hope that you will never forget 'Miss H.K.'

WENDY NICKSON

House: Maxwell

Years at Trafalgar: Six

Position: Prefect, Assistant Social Convenor, Co-head of food committee

Message: Who would have thought I could survive? Cheers to Dee's kidney story, writing to Chris for 3 years, my wonderful school shoes; having the same formal date for 3 years, Gill and her wild stories, 11 Bio with Robyn and Steve; being a failure in Math, blending, Happy Easter lipbalm, making a run for the border with da girls, Justin; boes; Meghan for being there Stop It's Hammer Time!

GRADUATING CLASS

DALE PANG

House: Maxwell

Years at Trafalgar: Two

Message: It's an unforgettable experience to be a boarding student. Chatting with friends during spares, eating different kinds of Chinese noodles, staying up for the ISP's and tests . . . There are lots and lots of funny but meaningful memories from these two years. Thanks to my teachers and friends. They are very nice and helpful. Special thanks to Mom and Dad. I love you both!

JULIA PARK

House: Carter

Years at Trafalgar: Three

Message: Finally, my time has come to live my own life. I will never forget my friends who helped me when I had problems and always gave me strength to live on. I couldn't graduate this year without them. Thanks to Mrs. McKay who helped me to develop Art skills and to my parents. I hope we all meet in the future, and there's success in our lives.

JENNIFER PATTINGALE

House: Carter

Years at Trafalgar: One

Message: It was a new experience to come to a school such as Trafalgar and it will be a part of my memory forever. Sos, gotta love those nature walks. Green, track, i.e. Timmy Horton. Lori, we both came late and we made it! Montse, noodles? Tory and Shimi, pool anyone? Best wishes to all in future endeavours.

ALEXIS SIMMS

House: Carter

Years at Trafalgar: Five

Position: Prefect, Minister of Communications

Message: Ciao to being King of the Morons, being a simple peasant, Dee's rat, Hammy R.I.P., deep thoughts, Cougar boots, causing trouble, chicken à la king, outta control situations, I ate chapel seats, Christina's fetishes and my lunch tables. Thaxn to Alanna, Andy Needsspam and all of my friends with whom I've shared belly laughs and memories. You guys are the best. Yo homie! Help is on the way.

JUDY SIU

House: Hare

Years at Trafalgar: One and a half

Message: Time may pass but I'll never forget Trafalgar Life. Midnight gossip with Julie, studying with Carmen for every test, memorizing Monica's piano piece, Shelly's friendship. Retain the memories: Miss Roberts's comfort, Mrs. Jackson's fondness, Miss Stone's teaching. But closest to my heart, my family, who support me when I feel helpless. May the sun shine on them!

GRADUATING CLASS

JULIE SUN

House: Carter

Years at Trafalgar: One and a half

Message: One and a half years in Trafalgar is not a long time. However, I have many unforgettable memories and have made many good friends here. It has been a wonderful experience for me. Special thanks to all the housemothers, Miss Roberts, Mr. Davis, Mrs. K and also my close friends — Judy, Ginie and Elaine. Finally, I really appreciate the love and support from my Dad and Mum.

KARLA TREVINO

House: Carter

Years at Trafalgar: One

Message: Time flies. That's the end of this unforgettable year at Trafalgar. I'll never forget the great time that I had during this year: long weekends, Hawaii and Hong Kong, being a nuisance to Mrs. Jackson and my friends. I want to thank my parents for giving me the opportunity to come to Trafalgar and all my friends for their support. To Marla who was a great roommate. To Elda, Myrna and Marimar who became my best friends.

CHRISTINE TSAI

House: Maxwell

Years at Trafalgar: Three

Position: Prefect

Message: Finally, I graduate! During these three years, Trafalgar really gave me many remarkable memories. I must say "thank you" to all the teachers at TCS for supporting and helping me, and to all my friends who shared many stresses, tears, and laughters through these years. Thanks Mom and Dad for being there and for giving me this great opportunity to study in Canada.

GINIE WONG

House: Farewell

Years at Trafalgar: Two

Message: Time goes very fast at TCS. I really had a wonderful boarding life, especially in Gr. 11. Thanks to all my friends for sharing my happiness and helping me to go through the hard times. Candy, don't forget that we are the best "HOUSEFLY KILLERS"! Thanks to my housemother, Ms. Roberts. Special thanks to my parents and sister. Dad, thanks for your "Nine-Ninc-Fun". Mom and Flora, thanks for your comfort and support. I love you all.

CANDY YU

House: Hare

Years at Trafalgar: Two

Message: I had a great boarding life for these two years. Gimie and Jamie, I won't forget the symphony that we played. Monica, remember your argument. Julie and Judy, you are always my food providers. Carolyn, remember the secrets that we shared. I would like to thank all the teachers and housemothers, especially Miss Roberts. Thanks to all my friends for sharing my happiness and sadness. Also thanks Mom and Dad for your support and my brothers, Albert and Michael for being my drivers! I miss you all!

At Willow Lane Stables in Pickering our students spent their Monday afternoons and evenings in the pursuit of horsemanship experience. From the basics of tacking and grooming to the finely orchestrated manoeuvres which are required for jumping, instruction was always geared to the level of each student's own needs. Marietta Weber still rides Indy (upper right) despite breaking her wrist in a fall when he refused a jump early in June. "He's a great horse," she enthuses, "it was just an accident."

Students involved in these lessons included Alejandra Magana, Shimi Siyolwe, Tory Crewe-Nelson, Jane Roberts, Zimkie Chan, Stephanie Cheng, Amy Kay and Marietta Weber, and, more often than not, Mrs. Metselaar.

On a lighter note, we also schedule a house competition in swimming in April which can probably be heard up in Brooklin! When all the school is on hand down on the pool deck, in their house colours and with banners waving, the volume of cheering is very inspirational, and we generally get wonderful results from our swimmers. It is one of our most popular events.

The twelve students on our tennis team once again had a successful season, competing both at home and away. In the Singles' Tournament held at Bishop Strachan School in Toronto, Daniela Cauabal won two matches but unfortunately lost in a close semi-final to Havergal College.

Our strongest doubles team, Daniela and Joanna Eaton, enjoyed great success and defeated several schools, including St. Clement's in a 6-1 decision.

All six of our doubles teams experienced wins in various tournaments during our season, and are to be congratulated for their great efforts and skill.

Dear Carter,

As I look back over my year as house captain, the first word that comes to mind is VICTORY. We won even when we lost — no matter what the score, we always came away smiling. We are a house with tremendous spirit, talent, and wit. We excel not only in house games, but in Drama, (where we make others laugh hysterically) in Academics and of course, socially.

Speaking of excelling, I'd like to thank my socially-terrific sub-captain, Julie, for always being there when I needed her. I know that you'll do a great job as president of the AA next year, Julie. I'd also like to thank each spirited, talented and witty member of Carter House — you girls are the best. Don't ever forget: House plays '92-'93, the swim meet, and of course the most spirited game of the year, our victory in house baseball.

No captain and sub-captain can be successful without the support of fellow members and no house could have been more enthusiastic than you. Hope to see you all at house games next year! I'll be there, cheering as loudly as I can!

This year has been a great one for me. The "Farewell Generation" shone in friendly competition and fun, from the 'Three Amigos' to 'The Monkey's Paw'. Your challenges helped me to become a better person. The best memory I hold from this past year has to be "Lovely Somba Chicken!" I'd like to thank everyone for making me feel welcome after my quick promotion to house captain after Kim's departure.

To Sonya, my partner, friend and saviour, must go my thanks for your confidence and shoulders to lean on; a better sub-captain I could not have asked for. When I was most desperate you were there to weather the storms. Thanks.

One final word to my house, remember that you are part of the Farewell Generation; when we fight with determination, we create a sensation. So go and create!

love,

Trish

Dear Old Maxwell:

Being house captain has been a very rewarding experience for me. Many things this year have contributed to this feeling — from Spirit Day in September when the juniors, with only half an hour to practise, pulled off their version of Technotronics' "Move This", to softball in April. I was really impressed with the way you pulled together (ME & MAX) and worked hard to maintain a winning attitude, even when we weren't that successful. But I think the best memory I will have of Maxwell was the day we all gathered outside to take pictures for information day. SMILE!

Finally, I would like to take this opportunity to thank Caryn Leah for all her love, support and dedication. Best luck to you, Caryn, as you lead our house next year, and to Daphne, our new sub, for the help I know you'll give. All of you Maxwellites should be very proud of yourselves and your house. I'd like to leave you with one thought to remember . . . MAXWELL RULES!!!

love,

Alana Phader

"We always go the distance, right up to the wall
 Good friends you can count on, Hare House has it all!
 There's nothing halfway about it, that's always been our call,
 There's nothing halfway about it, Hare wins it all!"

Being House Captain for Hare this year has been a very memorable experience, and what an amazing year we've had! From Activity Day to our winning house play, all of this year's events have been tremendous successes (including the ones we didn't win!).

Our house spirit has been incredible throughout the entire year. Thank you to everyone who came out and really got involved; your participation made my job so much easier! I have learned a great deal by being your captain. Never in my entire lifetime have I heard such creative and innovative excuses as the ones I received for not coming to house games! Through being House Captain I learned to be a good leader; thank you for that opportunity.

I would like to extend a very special thank-you to my amazing sub-captain, Jodi; you are the best — just remember, everything's under control! Hare House, you are the greatest. Through win or loss, our spirit will continue forever. Peace and happiness always for you — each and everyone of you is beautiful and special.

FORMAL

On November 28, 1992, the main hall of the school and common room were decked out in all their splendor for our annual Formal dance. Decorations of red, green, and gold were everywhere. With the lights of the Christmas tree on and the music blaring, it was impossible not to have a great time. All the girls looked simply smashing as they and their dates swept the night away until one in the morning. With close to a hundred people dancing the evening away, it was a great chance to socialize with all those present. A special thanks to the pages, Social Committee, and Shelley for making the evening come alive and make it a special memory for everyone.

At right, Alexis Simms, the unanimous choice of the audience and our adjudicator, Sidney Clark, carries off the coveted 'Best Actress' award.

87th Annual May Festival

After the presentation of the houses with their bold new banners, Mary Anderson, grand-daughter of the first May Queen, presented her personal gift of a white Bible to this year's sovereign, Shelley Braham of Markham. Last year's recipient, Anju Mehta was on hand to present the May Queen's pin and then counsellor pins were bestowed on Ingrid Hirt, of Germany and Daniela Canabal of Venezuela. Following these traditional honours, our May Queen delivered her address, which can be found on the facing page.

In honour of our May Court, students were pleased to dance and sing in celebration, which gave us all an opportunity to applaud their talents and reminisce over May Days past. Some of these performances included the grade tens' May Pole Dance, a ballet solo by Chiara Campitelli, highland dance by Margaret King, a grade eight tumbling routine, Mexican Dance called Jarabe Tapatio, Chinese Dance choreographed by Elsa Yuen and a grade nine drama dance they titled "Form from Form".

By the time the Celebration Singers raised their voices for the finale, we were all united in our praise of this glorious tradition. The more boisterous and less structured May Fest followed directly with foods of our student's homelands lovingly prepared and offered for sale from booths on the front lawn. Mr. Kamcke put on his auctioneering hat at 2:30 as the assembled folk signaled their bids on art works, furniture, delectables and everything in between. A proud occasion for our school and a chance to renew old acquaintances, our May Day is our most cherished annual event.

May Queen's Address

It is an honour to have been elected May Queen for 1993 and it is a distinct privilege to be the first young woman to take this more active role in the May Day Festivities.

In the past, the presence of the May Queen reflected the old attitudes towards women — she was a visible but not very active representation of the school motto 'Truth, Virtue, Loveliness'. In 1907 when the first May Queen was elected I believe that it was felt at the time that women, like children, should be seen and not heard — certainly not in politics or in many professions. The May Queen at the turn of the twentieth century was honoured more for qualities of deference and obedience than she was for the qualities of leadership and self-assurance.

Over the years, the May Day traditions have changed to reflect the growing recognition of women's contributions to society. So much has changed in the past twenty-five years in particular. England elected Margaret Thatcher as its first Prime Minister, Canada appointed Jean Sauve its first female Speaker of the House, and when Kim Campbell succeeds in winning the leadership of the Conservative party this weekend, Canada will have its first woman Prime Minister!

The unique qualities of our education at Trafalgar Castle School give us a head start in our goal to play more active roles in society — in politics and in the work force throughout the world. As we near a new century and new challenges, I am proud to be part of Trafalgar Castle's ongoing traditions and part of Trafalgar Castle's recognition of women's emergence in today's world.

Thank you again for this honour.

JUNIOR SCIENCE OLYMPICS

It was a dark and stormy day. I was quietly finishing my lunch when out of the mist loomed Mr. Davis! He had a proposition for me; to organize the second annual Junior Science Olympics. "Fearing for my life", I accepted. Well, the saga does continue with a roller-coaster ride of ups and downs, of begging and pleading and of mishaps and whining-mostly on my part. In the end, this Junior Science Olympics turned out to be a great success! I'd like to thank Mr. Davis for giving me this opportunity; despite my complaints, it was a lot of fun! Good luck next year!

. . . Events, sensations and experiences have been working their way into that special part of your subconscious, that special part that will hold those personal memories until the time is right for them to be released and experienced once again. It may be the fragrance of a spring flower, the sound of gentle rain on a slate roof, the clanging of radiators on chilly winter mornings, a song on the radio, a sound in the twilight or a smile of an old friend. It is these sparks that will allow you to relive your past, a past that has been filled with subtle yet powerful feelings. These are the intangible benefits of life at Trafalgar Castle. . .

Go away from these halls and experience life and all the failures and successes it holds. Then return to Trafalgar and allow its presence to reawaken those memories, unlock them from the recesses of your mind. Senior Dinner Speech of Mr. Davis

VALEDICTORY ADDRESS

Mr. Kamcke, Miss Roberts, Mrs. Smith, faculty, guests, parents, fellow students and the graduating class of 1993:

When the time came for me to start writing my Valedictorian address, my last public speaking event at Trafalgar, I found that I had great difficulty in trying to decide how to begin it. I have so many memories from my six years at Trafalgar, I have made so many new friends and acquaintances here, and have had so many new experiences, I didn't know where to begin. Everybody in the school knows that I am never short of words, or stupid facts that I was shocked to have finally experienced writer's block.

During my time here at Trafalgar, I have met girls from my own country and from other places where I can only dream of going. It is this mixture and different views which make the education students here gain outside the classroom just as important and informative as the one inside the classroom. The multicultural society of the school breaks down built-up prejudices and myths about different societies and gives the student an opportunity to learn first hand about a different culture which is so unlike her own. It also gives the student an opportunity to learn different languages and the key phrases like "the ugly woman falls down funny on the street" in Cantonese. Trafalgar also offers girls a chance to stand out from the crowd. In most schools, the valedictorian is the student with the highest average from the graduating class. Here at Trafalgar, valedictorian is voted on by the grads themselves. Our school is moving to become more democratic than it ever has been before with examples of voting for Head Girl to conducting Prefect interviews and good old students council where any girl can have a say and know that her words will be taken into consideration. House plays, luncheon concerts and sports are a few ways in which every girl can choose to excel.

I would now like to take this opportunity to speak directly to you;

To the parents: although your daughters, including myself, may have not always been supportive of your decision to send them to a private girls' school, it is moments like this, with diplomas in our hands, that we wish to thank you. Most parents tend to classify their children into one of two categories: either a leader or a follower. By sending your daughter to a school like Trafalgar, everyone emerges a leader in her own right and if your daughter was a leader before she came here, then she emerges as a stronger leader, more sure of herself. If she was a follower when she first walked through the doors of the school, rest assured that today she emerges as a leader; a result of the many opportunities which present themselves to the students to take charge throughout the school year in all sorts of different forms. You have given us a gift that will be with us throughout our entire life and will be the basis if we succeed or not. Whitby may not be the most exciting place, but it is home to one of the best educations that a young woman can receive and the home of many talented ladies.

To the students: Because I was the first student to walk into the concert hall, I remember very well sitting there in Grade Seven at my first Commencement, however, I don't remember who the Valedictorian was; I hope this won't be the case this year. We the graduates leave with you the memories of our life here at Trafalgar. These are precious memories and we hope you cherish and take care of them, along with our reputation and our school. All of these mean so much to us, as does your friendship through this year and all of our years at Trafalgar. We will be carrying fond memories of you with us when we are walking through unfamiliar halls next September and you are all back here in this environment you know so well. I hope you carry these same fond memories of us as we will be in need of your support when we come back to complain how hard university is and that you don't realize how easy you have it here.

To the faculty: I don't know whether I should thank you or not. You are the people responsible for making sure that our life will turn out all right and that we won't come back to bother you next year; a pretty large responsibility when you have people like Dee Brown and me in your class and for this I do thank you. On the other hand, you are also the same people who have made us all stay up way past our bedtime on numerous occasions for essays and the dreaded Independent Study in English. For this, I do not thank you, but what we have learned here is far more than we ever hoped we would. I only wish that just once I could have written one test for Mr. Palmer that I didn't get a mark taken off for bad grammar or two measly spelling errors. We the graduates have you, the faculty to thank for sharing your wisdom with us and hope that we will be able to apply it in our future at university, college or wherever our paths take us. You encouraged us to keep learning and to keep trying. You taught us that life should hold no boundaries and if we believe in ourselves, it will make others believe in us as well. When I first walked through the doors six years ago I would never have guessed that one building could grow to mean so much to me. Now I realize it's not so much the building but its contents inside that make it so special. There are few other schools where the teachers are so dedicated to the students and coaching teams that they will stay until 6:00, only to drive home to Barrie or Port Hope and have to wake up the next day and do it all over again. The dedication the faculty has to the students is what really makes the difference in a school system where most students are just a student. At Trafalgar, teachers and students are friends.

And finally to the graduates: the struggles and friendships that we have all endured throughout the year are memories that will be a bond between us forever. We do not know what the future holds for us and yet people are now telling us that we should be ready to leave the home we have known that has always protected us. Some of us have been here for seven years, and some for only one, but the friendships we have made will last a lifetime. It is a rare occurrence in life that people have such a great opportunity to meet such wonderful, sharing girls who are transformed into young women over the course of ten months. Life goes by like a heart beat. One minute we were in diapers (not here of course) the next we'll be gone but the memories of our years at Trafalgar will stay with us forever. You should feel very good about yourselves. You had to handle a rigorous academic program. You have had to live in a place where your faults are measured in detentions and gatings and where your values are under constant scrutiny. It has not been easy, but it has often been great fun.

The last few weeks at Trafalgar have been full of "last times." The last time to make fun of Mr. Davis wearing track pants and snowboots with suspenders; the last time to tell Mr. McClure that he does not tell funny jokes; the last time to hear one of Mr. Palmer's stories about his dog Sasha or about the cardboard factory; the last time to go to Taco Bell during our spares; the last time to say it is our last time to do anything. Like the education we received here, the graduates also leave with vivid images about the day to day routine which we have all grown accustomed to over the year or over the years. Chapel, not having a book for reading period, break, lunch time seating, house games, meetings galore even though we may not speak about anything important. Our life has become a complex schedule to an outsider, but easy to understand if you attend here. Academics are first, and everything else has to fight to come in second in importance. For a small school, we have no shortage of activities to fill our after school hours.

So what are the feelings I have of leaving my friends that I have spent a third of my life growing up with? The feeling of not graduating with any of my original classmates because I fast tracked? The feeling of not knowing what my future holds for me because university is a world unknown to me? It is one of the greatest feelings I have ever known. I'm scared, but it feels good; I'm worried but I feel secure; I'm lonely, but I have never known such feelings of love and friendship that I have known here. It is good to know that I am moving on as all things in life continue and it is good to know that I can always come back to Trafalgar to see familiar faces and friendly smiles. No matter where we graduates go, we are all leaving a piece of ourselves here at Trafalgar and we trust that you, the students who will be remaining here, will be good to it as we hope we have been good to you. "Education is learning what you didn't know you didn't know" and I cannot think of a better place than Trafalgar Castle to learn this. I proudly present to you the Graduating Class of Nineteen hundred and ninety-three and we hope we have your kind thoughts with us for our journey which will be unprotected by the walls of our alma mater. Thank you.

Wendy Nickson
